What Is Photoshop? Photoshop and Photoshop Elements are among the most popular graphic design software applications. Photoshop is a popular non-linear image editing and compositing application. Photoshop Elements is a version designed for non-professionals. The name Photoshop, which originally stood for "photographic manipulator", derives from an automated digital image processing program developed by George Gray and John Malmberg that was first released for the Apple II computer in May 1984. In 1991, George Gray and John Malmberg started a new company called Adobe Systems. Adobe Photoshop was a registered trademark of the company (and later trademarked the Adobe logo as well). Adobe Photoshop Elements is the name of the product that was released in 2009. More on Covid-19 SILOBI: The first three Covid-19 cases have been confirmed in Siloben in Siang district, they have not spread to the general public, sources have said. The three patients arrived from Rajarhat Sadar in North 24 Parganas on Tuesday and have been quarantined at their home in Siloben. A Union health ministry source said they were admitted to the district general hospital on Tuesday night following early detection, which was initially reported by a media group. They do not have any travel history to any of the affected countries. The patients have been kept under observation, the source said. "They do not have any symptoms and it is not spreading among the general public," he said. On Sunday, a total of nine suspected cases were identified in an apartment in the locality where in two groups of five people each had arrived from Chennai on March 9 and March 11. In the three days since then, nine people were placed in quarantine as suspected cases in Siloben. The residents have been told that, no matter what, they will be held responsible for anything that might happen in the future. The district administration has set up new screening centres in Siloben in the wake of the outbreak in Chennai, where suspected Covid-19 patients have been quarantined in huge tents. Sources said that they will be moved out of the tents and into hospitals in no time. But the locals have not accepted the facilities and are refusing to abide by the new quarantine guidelines. // CodeMirror, copyright (c) by Marijn Haverbeke and others // Distributed under an MIT license: (function() { var mode = CodeMirror.getMode({tabSize: 4, indentUnit: 2}, "text/x-ocaml"); function MT(name) { test.mode(name, mode, Array.prototype.slice.call(arguments, 1)); } var mode = CodeMirror.getMode({tabSize: 4, indentUnit: 2}, "text/x-sed"); function MS(name) { test.mode(name, mode, Array.prototype.slice.call(arguments, 1)); } var mode = CodeMirror.getMode({tabSize: 4, indentUnit: 2}, "text/x-sed"); function MS(name) {

The Reserve Bank of India (RBI) will make it mandatory for all public sector banks to have intraday payments system within their domestic networks, an official said here today. There have been cases of suicide due to frustration of people (referring to the violation of intraday settlement by banks) and the RBI is making it mandatory for all banks to provide this facility, the deputy managing director of Union Bank of India, S Sudhakar Babu said at a conference here. Intraday settlement means making payment of bank notes for the next day before it is due instead of the next day itself. Under the current system, when a customer submits an order for the next day, the bank deducts the entire amount from the customer's account. "Today, the RBI has set a deadline of December 31, 2017 for getting these facilities ready. We are sure that the whole country will be provided this facility with the help of various state-owned banks," he said. Also read | RBI plans new fresh-initiative scheme to help farmers amid low yields The central bank had in September this year given a 6-month extension to every bank for getting intraday settlement system within the domestic network. Banks have now to make the system functional within six months of this deadline. The government has already said that in the next financial year, bank intraday settlements will be reduced from the current 93 days currently, if transactions done within different branches and across the country over the next 93 days, the bank's correspondent branch would settle the entire transaction within one working day) to 36 days. Mr Babu also said the Union Bank of India will launch a mobile app to help ordinary people to check stock market condition from the app and also to make payments. The system will help the customer to ascertain market prices for various commodities from the app and can be used to make payments using debit and credit cards, net banking facility and mobile wallets, he said. The app will also help the customer to track their savings account through net banking and their pension account through retirement services. The Bank has already started this mobile banking facility and we will soon launch it as a platform to give customer access to world of banking in a more user-friendly manner.
