To help us facilitate the exchange of ideas between forum members, the following rules apply to every section of the forum: No pornographic images, no writing advocating hatred or violence, no linking to any sites promoting such activities, and no creation of multiple accounts to disrupt the system. You are expected to act with decorum and civility. All content shared on the forums is copyright of the member who posted it. The Forum's primary purpose is for you to have a safe place to post all your information. From this point forward, keep in mind that all content posted in the forums is available to other forum members. Frequent posting by the same member(s) will result in a warning. Anyone can post comments or send private messages to other members, but anyone who posts on multiple forums or creates multiple accounts to disrupt the forum will be banned. If you would like to start a discussion on a certain topic, please refer to the appropriate section on the site. If your post is rude, offensive, or breaks any rules listed above, you will be banned. Because this is a Social Security discussion forum, most posts and replies are confidential. Unless you are a member of the Social Security Administration or the SSA, please be sure to keep all information posted on this forum confidential and not make it available to the public. If you have any questions about these rules, please contact a member of the forum staff. We will be happy to answer any questions you may have.
