In this video I'm going to show you how to get rid of bloatware on your Windows laptop/tablet/phone/desktop. I use this system for work, and as you'll see it's a mess. But it also happens to be the only system I have ever owned that I can keep for a year or more without a PC crash. Also, if you need assistance with your own PC, check out my PC troubleshooting services on the link below. As a bonus, for new clients I give them a free first hour of help. In this short tutorial we'll go over how to use ReLive to create a lofi/lo-fi audio texture for your music. Then we'll go into creating a simple soundscape to layer with your track. Step 1. Create an Audio clip in Soundtrack Pro Use the length slider to change the length of the clip to 90 seconds. To create a fade in, we'll use a LFO in ReLive to dial in some delays. Step 2. Add the ReLive Reverb Plugin With the audio clip selected, click Add Plugin. Then choose ReLive and Reverb. Step 3. Create the ReLive LFO With the ReLive LFO, we'll dial in the
