U.K. based helicopter turbine specialist Huntsman International has appointed John Foy as the regional director of new business development for the UK and

Ireland to accelerate the sales of aerospace products to the United Kingdom market. The decision to appoint Foy reflects Huntsman's desire to leverage its strongest platforms for sales and marketing in the region. Foy is a former mechanical design engineer at Rolls-Royce, which he joined in 1991. He has spent his career in a wide range of design disciplines that include helicopter engines and in recent years has focused on working as a corporate sales manager for many of Huntsman's international markets. Huntsman International manages business development across a number of specialist aerospace industry markets including helicopter, fixed-wing aircraft and defence. Huntman's products include some of the world's most successful aircraft engines, which it has developed and refined for over 40 years. "John is an energetic and dynamic member of our team with exceptional business and sales skills," commented Huntsman International's regional director of new business development, Richard Jones. "His appointment reinforces the company's strategy to dominate markets beyond the Americas. John is a natural fit for our business as he brings the skills and knowledge necessary to be a strong and effective regional director of new business development for the UK and Ireland." Richard Jones continued: "It has been clear
