Elden Ring A young man was raised to become a great warrior. In a world of quick and deadly battles, he was destined to destroy countless enemies and claim the ancient territory of the Alik'ran. One day, the decision that will shape his future took place.

The Alik'ran territory was once divided into various provinces. He, known as the "Elden Lord," whose name was Micah, became the ruler of the province to the southwest of the legendary town of Moria. Forty years have passed since that fateful day, and the province is now a glorious Elden Ring.

In the province of Araael, the Elder Scrolls Online, players can create their own unique character, change their appearance, forge alliances with other players, and journey into vast open fields for strategic battles. However, the kingdom is built upon a crisis, and tragedy is just around the corner...

You are a foreigner in the province of Araael, where excitement and exhilaration abound. Holding the entire province hostage, a powerful group wants you to join up with them to find an ancient treasure. The decision that awaits you is both wondrous and daunting. If you make the wrong choice, it will have consequences far beyond the land of Araael.

Update It's interesting to read that the hacker community is involved in the development of the game. So we would like to see that the crack group as well. Editors: We are not against crack groups. But this group is acting against the game and the community, and is causing worries among the people who are playing the game. We would like to ask them to change their way of doing things, so that we do not have to take extreme measures to remove their servers. As the crack group is running their own server, we can only ask users to stop using the crack group server and connect to the official ELDEN RING servers. 2. "The main problem of the whole of crack group staff is that they insult our community as if they were advising the official website. They seem to think that they have the right to insult a community that considers this as an actual game, and as such, they should be entitled to insult the author as well. As for the author, he has tried to patiently wait for the criticism of crack group staff to die down. Although I am willing to consider crack group staff to be a part of a community that claims this game, this game is not my little brother or something that I should put up with it. You should have respected the situation before you began your activities, and at least apologised to the author. Moreover, crack group staff is a professional team that claims to have a great knowledge on the modding tools. As such, it is the responsibility of crack group staff to be the most respectable and harmless among the modding tools. Finally, crack group staff cannot claim to be a side of the community in terms of importance. If you feel you are qualified enough, have your own team and also have a great understanding of the modding tools to use. Please stop wasting our time" 3. "Mods" We have a serious problem with "mods
