Q: How can I get the last 24 hours from a specific time? I have to write a function that returns the last 24 hours from a specific time. How can I do this?

A: This method is fully implemented in the Date class, but it has been obsolete for quite some time. Today, the standard method would be to use the Calendar and SimpleDateFormat classes in conjunction, as follows:

Calendar c = Calendar.getInstance();
    c.setTime(new Date());
    c.set(Calendar.HOUR_OF_DAY, 23);
    c.set(Calendar.MINUTE, 0);
    c.set(Calendar.SECOND, 0);
    c.set(Calendar.MILLISECOND, 0);
c.add(Calendar.DATE, -1); SimpleDateFormat sdf
    = new SimpleDateFormat("HH:mm:ss"); String
    formatted = sdf.format(c.getTime());
```

If you are dealing with strings of arbitrary length of time (as opposed to times that are measured as the number of hours since epoch, e.g., the number of milliseconds since midnight, January 1, 1970), you can do the same using the three-arg form of the SimpleDateFormat constructor (see the javadoc):

SimpleDateFormat sdf = new

```
SimpleDateFormat("HH:mm:ss");
sdf.setLenient(false); String formatted = sdf.format(c.getTime()); A: Use Date.getTime() if you want to count milliseconds
