Using left and right arrow keys, bounce the ball (y) and jump (d) between platform elements. Colors always match their position on the level (blue are blue). Some platforms have interactive objects (trapdoors, gates etc.) which hinder your progress. Some platforms are static (ceiling, ground etc.). Find awesome powers after collecting 100 Rainbow Souls, fly with Dandelion or acquire the superpowers of a limited number of Characters. Collect the power-ups and unlock new features like flying or running. Fun challenges with collectibles and special levels are waiting for you. Character: * Ball is a bouncing ball who can bounce in all directions * Right key bounces upwards, left key bounces downwards * Up key can be released, jump and can be collected * Down key jumps, hold it while bouncing * Jump and bounce towards the left. * Jump and bounce towards the right. * Interact with objects using jump and bounce. * Collect various power-ups to become faster, fly, walk, shoot lasers, etc. Gameplay: * Your goal is to collect all the treasure to unlock the next level. * Each level can be played multiple times to unlock all collectibles. * Each level has an in-game time limit of 4 minutes. If you time your jump appropriately, you may reach all of the collectibles and become the champion. * During the games there are 1 of the 30 collectible blocks that will be given away depending on your progress * Find hidden shortcuts during the gameplay. * There are platform elements like water, fire, laser, gates, magnets, etc. that slow the speed and can cause drowning. * Having a hangover is also present; your gravity is lowered and you lose a bit of speed when you fall. * There are 30 collectibles to collect in all levels. You must beat the whole game in order to unlock the highest score. * Time your jump to pass the obstacles in the game. * Passable air platforms can block your jump. * If you fall into water or land on a platform that is less than your jump height, a banishment will occur. * There are many instances where a game over is introduced. * Collect all the treasure blocks to unlock the next level. * You can collect and jump through the power-ups (except for power-up bombs) * If you collect all the power-ups you can fly.

What's new:

is Here! VSN’s Got ‘Em All | Pre-DLC Farming are Here! If you love farming, the preview version of the newest DLC for Plants Vs. Zombies Garden Warfare, “Good Ol’ Times”, has been released for you to experience. The first of the pre-DLC (dlc) crop of what’s to come in “Good Ol’ Times” can now be played in battle called orchard buff. No date is yet given on what is to come in the future dlcs but those who are willing to wait will find themselves in a familiar locale, the town of Motown. With this action-packed pre-dlc you’ll come across familiar displays and a familiar character on top of the stump. The inside of the orchard is just as well known as you’ve seen it in the trailers and to keep everything fresh you’ll need to charge into the town armed with lumberjack’s axe, rose reaper and bonemeal. No, really, you’ll get all 3 of these handy items in between two games that will get you up to speed on what you’ll need to do in the wacky town of Motown, and it’s actually a pretty fun (but short) mini-game. The largest changes to the game (aside from the new orchard dlc’s) are the change from Co-op Horde to Co-Op (Horde) and Spectator Mode (passive) in battle mode. With Battle mode you’ll be able to see all of the same information - up to four players in Co-op or Horde that have all 60 players in you can choose to attack, defend, befriend or fight in battle. You’ll always be able to return to the battle and check out your Friend vs. Enemies in the middle of battle. As far as the Horde or Co-op (Horde) portion, it’s similar to the Co-op vs. Kombination Contest dlc’s, allowing you to customize up to 3 of your friends to play with and individually select favorite or in game friends to play with, and allow them to start the modes or take part in the contest. After a friend or you start the selection process, everyone will see how well you work together in the ever popular junk thr

Forced Showdown is a challenging bullet hell brawler! Each character is a unique experience: Choose a deck of unlockable cards to boost you in new ways every battle - "My whirlwind shoots fireballs!?". Battle hordes of brutal foes to become a superstar in C-SAR's ever-changing game show. There are no time limits, no restrictions, unlimited bullets to blast your enemies, and any strike will activate the black screen effects. No matter what C-SAR has planned for you, just watch out for the drones - they're coming from the sky! INSTRUCTIONS: This game has two main game modes:Campaign Mode: Several different mission paths with different objectives like score a high score, win matches as fast as you can, beat the time limit in a certain mode, attack the boss, find the secret and much more!You can choose one of eight different champions. Each champion has it's own unique background story, special items and items depending on the level. (Each champion has different items in each world but the base items will remain the same). The eight world of Forced Showdown: The Drones have invaded! Expand the game with a new Campaign, Boss, World - tons of new Enemies, Cards, Modifiers, Quests and much more! The robots' paradise Lost 32 is now completely different. Play as the brand new mech contestant Settsu and explore The Mentor's Maze featuring the mysterious R3-KT. Forced Showdown has been optimized for both Steam and Google Play. Originally posted by hranger: It's not the win rate that matters it's the win count! If the win rate is 98% but you're winning by 0, then you have a higher score. Just an FYI. Excellent insight! I forgot about that aspect. Originally posted by Blahro: I'm currently playing a campaign made by my friend, which I'm really enjoying. It's a bit random in that the enemy won't always attack your favorite character. It seems like you're never really out of danger, especially against the older versions of the enemy which always seem to have health in addition to other abilities. Hey Guys!

Changelog: 0050.06-16-2017 (Pre-alpha) Permissions were added and scripts edited to make the installation process more consise. The installer is still in a very early stage. If you have any questions about making or cracking in this setup, or if the installer is crashing, please don’t hesitate to ask. 0046.11-09-2017 (Alpha) Fixes in script language. 0041.10-10-2017 (Alpha) Steps have been added to make the installation easier. A Github Repo was started, which can be accessed here. There is still a long way to go, it is still far from completed. Right now it just provides the gist of compiling on Windows, while additionally there is the file README_TRUNK.md there where we explain how to install the game if you want to compile from source. There’s also instructions in there how to make your own installation of that repo. This is also quite bare, if you want to compile the game on another system, please grab the files from the github repo and follow the steps that’s there. 0040.10-11-2017 (Alpha) Corrected the tutorial linked in setup for Windows and Mac users. 0036.07-03-2017 (Alpha) WASD will now auto-center if your mouse is hanging off the edge of the screen. 0034.07-03-2017 (Alpha) Windows installer added. Cracked version works fine, has no issue playing after the install. 0033.07-03-2017 (Alpha) Mac installer added. Cracked version works fine, has no issue
